HYMNS TO THE SUN... BY W. H. HERRICK.

Mute be the skies and still,
Silent each hushed hill
And earth and ocean's breast,
And all the breezes rest—
Let every echo sleep!

Unhush his singer's throat,
He comes—the lord of light—
Lend of the lyre,
Morn lift her lid of snow,
Tinged with a rosy glow,
To greet thee, glorious sire,
Climbing with winged feet
Of fiery couriers fleet,
Heaven's arch profound,
Far through the realms of air,
From out thy sunny hair,
Thou flungst radiant round.

Time art the living stream—
Of bright immortal beams—
The founts of day:
Before thy path careers
The chorus of the spheres,
With wild rejoicing lay.

The sad and silver moon
Before thy gorgeous noon
Slow gliding by,
Joy in her placid soul
To see around her roll
Those armies of the sky.

MEMORIES... BY ROBERT GRILLIEN.

Oh for the songs of other years!

When life and joy were young;
When night and gladness tales were told
Or mirthful strains were sung!
Or at the festal board high healths
Were given with cheerful brow—
We cups, alas! in silence press—
We're nought but "memories" now!

The loved, the kind, the good, the true,
In many a toast were given;
Those who, though knelt to on earth,
Yet raised our hopes to heaven!

Who, when in childhood's helpless days,
Around our couch did bow;
A mother's name, no more gives fame—
We're nought but "memories" now.

Off in the stormy sea of life,
Our bark by tempest driven,
Full dashing on the shoals of fate,
With words and canvases riven!

A mother's words—a mother's love,
Like angel at the prow—
Would cheer us to the haven of health—
We're nought but "memories" now!

Youth's days have fled, and in their stead
Come sorrow, grief and tears;
And for the sunny morn of song
We number heavy years!

Friend friends are gone, and we alone,
Beard affliction bow;
Time when we gave happy health—
We're nought but "memories" now!

RIOT AND BLOODED AMONG THE LABORERS ON THE PACIFIC RAILROAD—GREAT EXCITEMENT AT ST. LOUIS.

We learn from our St. Louis exchanges that great excitement was created in that city on Monday last, by the announcement that a serious war was raging between two parties of Irishmen at work on the Pacific Railroad near that city. The following particulars of the affair we copy from the St. Louis Democrat, of the 4th inst.:

RAILROAD WAR.—The workmen engaged in the construction of the Pacific Railroad, have again laid down their picks and shovels and taken up their guns and shotguns, and this time, we regret to say, with terrible results. On New Year's day, while we were commenting the social ententes cordiales in town, section eighteen was engaged in giving balls corner from the seat of hostilities arrived in the city on Sunday and announced to the authorities that the hands were up in arms, and that affairs were anything but peaceable on the Pacific Railroad. A company of foot was immediately ordered out to put down the refractory hands, and a corps of artillery despatched to pour lead upon the troubled waters. Yesterday morning the Greys, under the command of Captain Knapp, set out in omnibuses for the 4th ward, where they would take the cars for Cheltenham, and thence proceed by forced marches in carriages to meet the insurgents.

Up to the present moment we have received no report—not even from the artillery—but presume that the arrival of the troops immediately occasioned the departure of the rebels.

The Evening News gives the following authentic accounts of the origin and circumstances of the difficulty on the railroad:

Early last week a working party, numbering about thirty-five, who were engaged in tunneling on the seventeenth section, were paid off. The money they acquired, was expended for whisky.—One of the men went over to the eighteenth section, quarreled with some of the men there and was knocked down with a stone hammer, and was severely hurt. He returned to his own section and expatriated the men there with accounts of his ill treatment.

A day or two afterwards, two men from section eighteen, were seized on their way to town, and were brutally beaten. The workmen on section eighteen having indulged pretty freely in holiday whisky, determined to resent in a wholesale manner. Therefore, on Friday, sixty of them armed themselves with guns, as many as could be procured, and with stones and other missiles, and came over to section seventeen in a body.

The party of thirty-five who had drunk most, and were most riotous, armed themselves, party with guns, and took post in a house near the track. Not long after they entered, a gun was accidentally discharged, and a man, one of their own party, was killed by it.

The men from the section 18, then attacked the house and fired a volley, by which another man was killed, and a few others wounded. It is believed that the 18th section men then retired, but both parties being thoroughly exasperated, it was feared the riot would be continued, and finally include all the men on the two sections of whom there are about 350. At any rate, the contractor on section 18, wanting to discharge about 150 of his workmen could not do it, anticipating a general riot.

The following additional we find in the St. Louis Republican of the same date:

STILL LATER.—Last night two gentlemen came in from the scene of disturbance. The St. Louis Grays had arrived on the disturbed grounds, and encamped near the junction of section 17 and 18; the Missouri Artillery were about two miles behind, but would encamp with them. The excitement was very great, and many persons in the vicinity of the riots were removing. Our informants state that a great many lawless acts were committed on Sunday and early yesterday, but upon the appearance of the military the scramble seemed to be to get away.

FATAL RESCUE.—It is with sincere regret that we record another serious encounter in the vicinity of our city. From the facts already in our possession, we learn that a young gentleman named Junius Elean, of this city, having business in the State of Arkansas, crossed the river on Friday, and while travelling on Marion Plank Road, was involved in some difficulty with a toll gate keeper, which terminated in Elean shooting his adversary and wounding him. We learn that Mr. Elean at once delivered himself up to custody, in Marion county, Arkansas, but was released. The toll keeper's name was Wm. McGeehe, and, as we are informed, he was the aggressor. At all events the accounts of the occurrence in circulation last Saturday were very much exaggerated.—Memphis Express.

NASHVILLE, TENN.

TUESDAY MORNING, JANUARY 11, 1853.

The Nashville Union calls Gen. Cass "a fossil remnant of old feyism." Now how very honorable it is to the democracy that a large majority of the last democratic national convention at Baltimore persisted in voting day after day for the nomination of an old "fossil remnant" for the Presidency.—Louisville Journal.

The statement made above concerning the Nashville Union is untrue. We have never used such language about Gen. Cass or any other member of the democratic party. We can always find enough hard things to say of whig politicians, without indulging in them towards prominent democrats. When we choose to put on record our dissent from any of Gen. Cass' opinions, we will do so in that spirit of courtesy and respect which is due to so great and good a man.

A country editor, noticing the admission of Mr. Dixon to his seat in the Senate, says sixteen Senators were found dishonest enough to vote against him. The fellow who can write this way about a matter concerning which men may honestly differ is not fit to edit a paper in a civilized community.

The Gallatin Tenth Legion is in favor of Col. J. C. GUILD as our next candidate for Governor.

THE FRENCH AT SONORA—THEIR DEFEAT AND RETREAT.—A letter from Acapulco, under date of December 5th, and received by the New York Times, says that a "battle took place in the first part of November, at Hermosillo, between 214 French on one side, and 700 regular Mexican soldier on the other, the French burying, after the fight, 83 Mexicans having lost, at the first fire of the latter, 21 men. The French at the time were marching toward Guaymas, when, as they reached Hermosillo, the Mexicans suddenly fired upon them from a large well-served square, killing every one of their officers, which staggered them for an instant; but they rallied, mounted the walls, and fired down into the yard upon them as they would have done upon a flock of turkeys. The fight was afterwards continued for some time in the streets, with a supposed loss of about 75 men to the Mexicans, and none to the Counts party. The French then continued their way to Guaymas, but were met by a messenger from the city, who represented that the town was destitute of food, and deserted; and that they would inevitably all perish, unless they gave up the war. Count de Raousset at that time was being carried forward on a litter, nearly dead of the dysentery. All of his officers having been killed at Hermosillo, the men agreed to lay down their arms, on condition that Blanco should pay them $11,000, with which to embark for California and Mazatlan, which he did. Raousset was taken on board for Mazatlan, in almost a dying state.

THE PRESIDENT ELECT.

A correspondent of the Boston Post, speaking of the new administration, the importance of the trust to be committed to President Pierce, and the well-grounded confidence the people have in his patriotism and ability, concludes with the following remarks:

"The entire surroundings of Gen. Pierce down to this hour are eminently favorable. It would seem as if the excellent spirit of wisdom and counsel dwelt within him. Look at his position immediately after his nomination, when he urged that his name might not be presented to the National Convention. Look at his modest yet able letter of acceptance. Look at his retirement, silence, and dignity during the whole of the canvass. Look at the manner of receiving the news of his election, amid the firing of cannon and the hurrahs of his troops of friends. Look at him in the legislature of New Hampshire, when the sad tidings of the death of Webster were officially proclaimed in Concord, as he uttered that sublime sentiment, yet to pass into a recorded memorial and memento all over the land. The great heart of the nation beats heavily at the portals of Webster's grave. Look at his judicious way of receiving avowed peace-seekers, and the suggestions of parties interested for the succession and their dear selves. Look at his replies to committees of arrangements, public bodies, and voluntary associations. And finally, look at his sagacity and depth in preserving intact his own purpose with regard to the materials of his cabinet and the designs of his future government. Look at all these things, and you have Franklin Pierce before you."

AMOS LAWRENCE, Esq., of Boston, who died suddenly of disease of the stomach, on Thursday night, was a brother of Abbott Lawrence. The latter, when a young man, was a clerk in his store, and subsequently became a partner. For 30 years he has been a leading merchant of Boston, but for 20 years past has been in infirm health. During his life he gave donations to Williams College amounting to $25,000, and to Bunker Hill Monument $10,000, while his private charities were numerous and liberal. Not long since he appropriated $5,000 to purchase wood for the poor. The wife of Mrs. Lawrence is an aunt of Mrs. Gen. Pierce.

ANOTHER SPIRITUAL MEDIUM.—Col. Joel G. Sever, formerly a Representative to the Louisiana Legislature from New Orleans, ex-minister, ex-temperance lecturer, &c., has become a medium for the spirits of the other world to communicate with the denizens of this. At a meeting of the New York Conference for the investigation of spiritual phenomena, held on the evening of the 3d ult., and the proceedings of which are published in the Spiritual Telegraph, the worthy Colonel gave an account of his conversation with the new doctrine.

HOMICIDE AT DES ARS, ARKANSAS.—Learn from several citizens of Arkansas that an affray occurred, on Wednesday of last week, at Des Ars, in which a man named SAM DIXON was killed. The circumstances, as they have been detailed to us, were about as follows: This man DIXON, who, it appears, was a notorious desperado, had some time since shot a man, and was under indictment for murder in Prairie county. By securing himself, however, in the cane on this side of the river, he had baffled all attempts to arrest him, and was going at large in defiance of the civil authorities. On last week, he crossed over to Des Ars, and got into one or two rows, beating and abusing one or more persons, and setting the community at defiance. A Dr. A. R. WILSON, a very quiet and exemplary citizen, made some such remark as that such outrages ought not to be tolerated, which, coming to the knowledge of DIXON, he assaulted the Doctor on the street, knocking him down with a brick-bat, and beating him most brutally. The Doctor, who is a man of small physical power, procured a gun, killed him, and shot DIXON in sight the same day, killing him almost instantly. We hear, further, that upon an examination before a magistrate, into all the circumstances, the Doctor was discharged—the killing, in view of the desperate character of DIXON, being adjudged a justifiable homicide.

Dr. Wilson is an emigrant from Tennessee, from some one of the counties adjacent to Nashville, and is a pious, quiet, good citizen. DIXON was raised in Alabama.—Memphis Eagle and Enq.

A SMALL BUSINESS.—It is stated that on the arrival of Alboni's agent at Rochester, New York, a demand was made upon him for forty free tickets for the City Councilmen, and on his refusal to give them, the Council met, and by a vote of twelve to six, decided that all persons who sing, lecture, or who may give public exhibitions in that city hereafter, shall obtain a license from the Mayor, or be fined from five to fifty dollars.

NEWS ITEMS &amp;C.

Concerning the late dreadful accident on the Boston and Maine Railroad, we gather the following additional particulars:

The cars were thrown down an embankment 20 feet, turning entirely over on to a pile of rocks. The cars were smashed to atoms. Gen. Pierce was the first extracted. His son was crushed to death. Gen. P. is sound in limb, though he complains of pains in the back.

Not many months ago a small boy belonging to a German family in this county, took sick and died. His step-father purchased at the nearest store a boot-bell in which to bury him. It proved too short by six inches, so one or two things had to be done to make it answer the purpose. The inhuman step-father chose the latter alternative, and disregarding the remonstrances of the mother, saved six inches from the dead child's legs.—Eveningville Journal, January 4th.

AWARD OF LOUIS NAPOLEON IN THE PORTUGUESE DIFFICULTY.—The New York Herald learns by a private letter that Louis Napoleon, to whom was referred, as arbitrator, the claim made by our government against Portugal, for indemnification for the loss of the privateer General Armstrong, has decided against the claim, and in favor of Portugal.

A DEMON.—A letter from New York on the 2d inst., contained the following item:

A horrible tragedy, enacted near Hackensack, N. J., on Saturday afternoon, is creating no little excitement here. The facts, in brief, are these: A heavy-headed Irishman named CATON, 55 years old, having brutally ravished the person of a little girl, in the absence of her parents, cruelly butchered her in cold blood, and then murdered a little boy, her brother, who was in the house at the time—severing his head from his body with a hatchet. The parents of the unfortunate victims, Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien, were absent from home at the time the demon is still at large, but I hear he has been tracked to this city.

REVOLUTIONARY BALL IN MOTION.—From present indications, it would seem that the ball of revolution is fairly in motion, and when or where it will cease its evolutions, the future alone can determine. The Browns of Texas, after the capture of the city of Brownsville, a reliable source that Col. Basave had sent an express to General Arvalo, at Matamoros, on the Sunday previous, for reinforcements. Basave had been sent with a Government force in pursuit of Rodriguez, who had entered Victoria, the capital of the State of Tamaulipas, and put Gov. Cardenas to flight. Cardenas has fortified himself in a small village four miles from Victoria, and Basave had stationed his command at Juarez. San Carlos had pronounced in favor of the revolutionary or Rodriguez party, and contributed $3,000 to his cause. Another town near Victoria had also pronounced in favor of the revolutionists and contributed to their cause $1,500. Tula, and other towns that protested against the election of Cardenas, it was believed, had, or would soon join the revolutionists. Several skirmishes had taken place, in which the revolutionists were victorious. On Monday the 1st inst., and only a few wounded. This is the most formidable revolution that has been set on foot on the Mexican frontier for years, and may result in an overthrow of the Cardenas dynasty. We do hope that Cardenas will get his just deserts this time.—New Orleans Delta.

The Flag of the 18th, has the following further and important intelligence:

The news from our neighbors of Mexico continues every day to increase in interest. We have, through the courtesy of a friend, been shown letters and documents from the city of Victoria to the 14th inst. Gov. Cardenas has been captured in Tula, together with some nine members of the legislative assembly. An extra issue of the Flag of the 18th, from the news from the seat of the new government, announces this happy event. We have before us a message from the provisional Governor to the people, in which he tells them their success has been most complete. The entire State, with a few exceptions, have sent in their acquiescence to the provisional government, and the new plan—plan salvador de Guadalupe.
